

STORAGE	Label items with purchase and use-by dates.
	Use products in order of use-by dates (oldest first).
	Consider grouping items to match supplier's purchasing list.
	Use a stock tracking sheet; include frozen stock.
	Consider vacuum packing some items to extend shelf life and/or reduce odour.
	Consider using frozen, dried, bottled or tinned goods as alternatives to fresh ingredients where quality is comparable.
	Store dairy products, cooked meat, raw meats, fish, and fruit and vegetables separately in the refrigerator.
	Keep a selection of airtight containers available for storing food in the refrigerator; label contents and date them.
	Revise shelf/storage plan frequently to ensure that it reflects your menu.
	Avoid excess trimming of fish, meat and vegetables.
PREPARATION	Consider offering vegetables with their skins on.
	Freeze any surplus or use the next day.
	Use trimmings to make other dishes.
	Make breadcrumbs or croutons from leftover bread.
	Freeze surplus berries to make coulis or smoothies.
	Use scales to measure ingredients and portions.
	Ensure every dish meets a consistently high standard.
	Ensure staff are familiar with the entire menu and all its components.
	Donate surplus food to redistribution organisations.
PORTION SIZE	Keep portion sizes consistent – use standard spoons and measures.
	Offer the same menu item in different portion sizes.
	Offer average portions of vegetables, with top-ups if needed.
	Present food creatively to cut the quantity served.
	Offer to leave out any of the ingredients where possible e.g. no salad; salad without onions.
	Introduce takeaway containers such as 'doggy boxes' for leftovers.
	Monitor plate waste using tracking sheets.
